COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

An Act relating to the separation of the District of Maine from Massachusetts proper, and forming the same into a separate and independent State.

Whereas, It has been represented to this Legislature, that a majority of the people of the District of Maine are desirous of establishing a separate and independent Government within said District; Therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, That the consent of this Commonwealth be, and the same is hereby given, that the District of Maine may be formed and erected into a separate and independent State, if the people of the said District shall, in the manner, and by the majority, hereinafter mentioned, express their consent and agreement thereto, upon the following terms and conditions; and, provided, the Congress of the United States shall give its consent thereto, before the fourth day of March next; which terms and conditions are as follows, viz:

First. All the lands and buildings belonging to the Commonwealth, within Massachusetts proper, shall continue to belong to said Commonwealth; and all the lands belonging to the Commonwealth, within the District of Maine, shall belong, the one-half thereof, to the said Commonwealth, and the other half thereof, to the State to be formed within the said District, to be divided as is hereinafter mentioned; and the lands within the said District which shall belong to the said Commonwealth, shall be free from taxation, while the title to the said lands remains in the Commonwealth; and the rights of the Commonwealth to their lands, within said District, and the remedies for the recovery thereof, shall continue the same within the proposed State, and in the courts thereof, as they now are within the said Commonwealth, and in the courts thereof; for which purposes, and for the maintenance of its rights, and recovery of its lands, the said Commonwealth shall be entitled to all other proper and legal remedies, and may appear in the courts of the proposed State, and in the courts of the United States, holden therein, and prosecute as a party, under the name and style of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and all rights of action for, or entry into lands, and of actions upon bonds, for the breach of the performance of the condition of settling duties, so called, which have accrued, or may accrue, shall remain in this Commonwealth, to be enforced, commuted, released, or otherwise disposed of, in such manner as this Commonwealth may hereafter determine; provided, however, that whatever this Commonwealth may hereafter receive or obtain on account thereof, if anything, shall, after deducting all reasonable charges relating thereto, be divided, one-third part thereof, to the new State, and two-third parts thereof, to this Commonwealth.

Second. All the arms which have been received by this Commonwealth from the United States, under the law of Congress, entitled "An act making provision for arming and equipping the whole body of Militia of the United States," passed April the twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and eight, shall, as soon as the said District shall become a separate State, be divided between the two States, in proportion to the returns of the militia, according to which, the said arms have been received from the United States, as aforesaid.

Third. All moneys, stock, or other proceeds, hereafter obtained from the United States, on account of the claim of this Commonwealth, for disbursements made, and expenses incurred, for the defence of the State, during the late war with Great Britain, shall be received by this Commonwealth, and when received, shall be divided between the two States, in the proportion of two-thirds to this Commonwealth and one-third to the new State.

Fourth. All other property, of every description, belonging to the Commonwealth, shall be holden and receivable by the same, as a fund and security, for all debts, annuities, and Indian subsidies, or claims due by said Commonwealth; and within two years after the said District shall have become a separate State, the Commissioners to be appointed, as hereinafter provided, if the said States cannot otherwise agree, shall assign a just portion of the productive property so held by said Commonwealth, as an equivalent and indemnification to said Commonwealth, for all such debts and annuities, or Indian subsidies or claims, which may then remain due or unsatisfied; and all the surplus of the said property, so holden, as aforesaid, shall be divided between the said Commonwealth and the said District of Maine, in the proportion of two-thirds to the said Commonwealth, and one-third to the said District. And if, in the judgment of the said Commissioners, the whole of said property, so held, as a fund and security, shall not be sufficient indemnification, the said District shall be liable for, and shall pay to said Commonwealth, one-third of the deficiency.

Fifth. The new State shall, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made for that purpose, assume and perform all the duties and obligations of this Commonwealth, towards the Indians within said District of Maine, whether the same arise from treaties, or otherwise; and for this purpose, shall obtain the assent of said Indians, and their release to this Commonwealth of claims and stipulations arising under the treaty at present existing between the said Commonwealth and said Indians; and as an indemnification to such new State, therefor, this Commonwealth, when such arrangements, shall be completed, and the said duties and obligations assumed, shall pay to said new State, the value of thirty thousand dollars, in manner following, viz: The said Commissioners shall set off by metes and bounds, so much of any part of the land, within the said District, falling to this Commonwealth, in the division of the public lands, hereinafter provided for, as in their estimation shall be of the value of thirty thousand dollars; and this Commonwealth shall, thereupon, assign the same to the said new State; or in lieu thereof, may pay the sum of thirty thousand dollars, at its election; which election of the said Commonwealth, shall be made within one year from the time that notice of the doings of the Commissioners, on this subject, shall be made known to the Governor and Council; and if not made within that time, the election shall be with the new State.

Sixth. Commissioners, with the powers and for the purposes mentioned in this act, shall be appointed in manner following: The Executive authority of each State shall appoint two; and the four so appointed, or the major part of them, shall appoint two more; but if they cannot agree in the appointment, the Executive of each State shall appoint one in addition; not, however, in that case, to be a citizen of its own State. And any vacancy happening with respect to these two Commissioners, shall be supplied in the manner provided for their original appointment; and, in addition to the powers hereinbefore given to said Commissioners, they shall have full power and authority, and it shall be their duty, within ten years, next after the commissions shall be filled up, to divide all the public lands within the District, between the respective States, in equal shares, or moieties, in severalty, having regard to quantity, situation and quality; they shall determine what lands shall be surveyed and divided, from time to time; the expense of which surveys and of the commission, shall be borne equally by the two States. They shall keep fair records of their doings, and of the surveys made by their direction; copies of which records, authenticated by them, shall be deposited from time to time, in the archives of the respective States; transcripts of which, properly certified, may be admitted in evidence, in all questions touching the subject to which they relate. The Executive authority of each State may revoke the power of either or both its Commissioners; having, however, first appointed a substitute or substitutes, and may fill any vacancy happening with respect to its own Commissioners; four of said Commissioners shall constitute a quorum, for the transaction of business; their decision shall be final, upon all subjects within their cognizance. In case said commission shall expire, the division not having been completed, and either State shall request the renewal or filling up of the same, it shall be renewed, or filled up in the same manner as is herein provided for filling the same, in the first instance, and with the like powers; and if either state shall, after six months' notice, neglect or refuse to appoint its Commissioners, either for filling the commission in the first instance, or the renewal thereof, the other may fill up the whole commission.

Seventh. All grants of land, franchises, immunities, corporate or other rights, and all contracts for, or grants of land not yet located, which have been or may be made by the said Commonwealth, before the separation of said District shall take place, having or to have effect within the said District, shall continue in full force, after the said District shall become a separate State. But the grant which has been made to the President and Trustees of Bowdoin College, out of the tax laid upon the banks, within this Commonwealth, shall be charged upon the tax upon the banks within the said District of Maine, and paid according to the terms of said grant; and the President and Trustees, and the Overseers of said College, shall have, hold and enjoy their powers and privileges in all respects; so that the same shall not be subject to be altered, limited, annulled or restrained, except by judicial process, according to the principles of law; and in all grants hereafter to be made, by either State, of unlocated land within the said District, the same reservations shall be made for the benefit of schools and of the ministry, as have heretofore been usual, in grants made by this Commonwealth. And all lands heretofore granted by this Commonwealth, to any religious, literary, or eleemosynary corporation, or society, shall be free from taxation, while the same continues to be owned by such corporation, or society.

Eighth. No laws shall be passed in the proposed State, with regard to taxes, actions or remedies at law, or bars, or limitations thereof, or otherwise making any distinction between the lands and rights of property of proprietors, not residents in, or not citizens of said proposed State, and the lands and rights of property of the citizens of the proposed State, resident therein; and the rights and liabilities of all persons, shall, after the said separation, continue the same as if the said District was still a part of this Commonwealth, in all suits pending, or judgments remaining unsatisfied, on the fifteenth day of March next where the suits have been commenced in Massachusetts proper, and process has been served within the District of Maine; or commenced in the District of Maine, and process has been served in Massachusetts proper, either by taking bail, making attachments, arresting and detaining persons, or otherwise, where execution remains to be done; and in such suits, the courts within Massachusetts proper, and within the proposed State, shall continue to have the same jurisdiction as if the said District still remained a part of the Commonwealth. And this Commonwealth shall have the same remedies, within the proposed State, as it now has, for the collection of all taxes, bonds or debts, which may be assessed, due, made, or contracted, by, to, or with the Commonwealth, on or before the said fifteenth day of March within the said District of Maine; and all officers within Massachusetts proper and the District of Maine, shall conduct themselves accordingly.

Ninth. These terms and conditions, as here set forth, when the said District shall become a separate and independent State, shall, ipso facto, be incorporated into, and become, and be a part of any constitution, provisional, or other, under which the government of the said proposed State shall, at any time hereafter, be administered; subject, however, to be modified, or annulled, by the agreement of the Legislature of both the said States; but by no other power or body whatsoever.

SECT. 2. Be it further enacted, That the inhabitants of the several towns, districts, and plantations, in the District of Maine, qualified to vote for Governor or Senators, shall assemble in regular meeting, to be notified by warrants of the proper officers, on the fourth Monday of July next, and shall, in open meeting, give in their votes, on this question: "Is it expedient, that the District of Maine shall become a separate and independent State, upon the terms and conditions, provided in an act, entitled "An act relating to the separation of the District of Maine from Massachusetts proper, and forming the same into a separate and independent State?" And the selectmen of the towns and districts, and the assessors of the plantations, shall, in open meeting, receive, sort, count and declare, and the clerks thereof, respectively, shall record the votes given for and against the measure; and the said selectmen, assessors, and clerks, respectively, shall make out an exact return thereof, under their hands and shall seal up and transmit the same to the office of the Secretary of this Commonwealth, on or before the fourth Monday of August next. And all returns, not then made, shall be rejected in the counting; and the Governor and Council shall open and examine the said returns, made as aforesaid, and shall count the votes given on the said question; and the Governor shall, by public proclamation, to be made as soon as the state of the vote can be ascertained, after the said fourth Monday of August next, make known the result, by declaring the number of votes appearing in favor of the separation of said District, as aforesaid, and the number of votes appearing against it. And, if the number of votes for the measure shall exceed the number of votes against it, by fifteen hundred, then, and not otherwise, the people of said District shall be deemed to have expressed their consent and agreement, that the said District shall become a separate and independent State, upon the terms and conditions above stated; and in case of such majority, the Governor, in his said proclamation, shall call upon the people of said District to choose delegates to meet in convention for the purposes, and, in the manner hereinafter provided; and, in addition to publishing said proclamation, in one or more of the public newspapers printed in Boston, and in the District of Maine, copies of the same, duly authenticated, shall, as soon as can conveniently be done, after the making of the same, be transmitted to the office of the clerks of the courts of Common Pleas, in the several counties of the District of Maine, for public examination; and one such copy, at least, shall be transmitted to the convention of delegates, hereinafter mentioned, when said convention shall be formed.

SECT. 3. Be it further enacted, That if it shall be declared by said proclamation, that the said majority of fifteen hundred votes appeared by the said returns to be in favor of the separation of the said District as aforesaid; the inhabitants of the several towns and districts, now entitled to send one or more Representatives to the General Court, and all other incorporated towns, shall, on the third Monday of September next, assemble in town meeting, to be notified by warrant of the selectmen, and shall elect one or more delegates (not exceeding the number of representatives which such town is now entitled to; each town, however, to be at liberty to elect at least one,) to meet delegates from other towns within the said District, in convention, for the purpose of forming a constitution, or frame of government, for the said District. And at such meeting of the said inhabitants, every person qualified to vote for Senators, shall have a right to vote in the choice of delegates. And the selectmen shall preside, at such meeting, and shall in open meeting, receive, sort, count and declare the votes, and the clerk shall make a record thereof, in presence of the selectmen, and in open meeting. And fair copies of the said records shall be attested by the selectmen and town clerk, and one such copy shall be delivered by the selectmen to each of the persons duly elected a delegate.

SECT. 4. Be it further enacted, That the persons so elected delegates, shall meet in convention, at the Court House, in Portland, in the County of Cumberland, on the second Monday of October next, and they shall be the judges of the returns and election of their own members, and may adjourn from time to time, and sixty of the persons elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; and the said delegates shall, as soon as may be, proceed to organize themselves, in convention, by choosing a President, and such other officers as they may judge expedient, and establishing proper rules of proceedings; and it shall be the duty of the said convention, to apply to the Congress of the United States for its assent to be given, before the last day of January next, that the said District should be admitted into the Union, as a separate and independent State. And it shall also be the duty of the said convention, to form a constitution, or frame of government, for said new State, and to determine the style and title of the same; and such constitution, when adopted, and ratified by the people of said District, in the manner hereinafter mentioned, shall, from and after the fifteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and twenty, (the consent of the Congress of the United States, then being first had, as aforesaid,) be the constitution of said new State. And the said convention shall, as soon as may be, after having formed such constitution, or frame of government, for such new State, cause the same to be published, and sent to the several towns, districts, and plantations, within the said District of Maine; and there shall be a meeting of the inhabitants, in each of said towns, districts, and plantations, to be called and warned by the selectmen, and assessors respectively, in due course of law; and on the day named by said convention, at which meeting, every male inhabitant, having the personal qualifications, herein declared requisite in the election of delegates to said convention, shall have a right to vote; and the people so assembled, shall give in their votes in writing, expressing their approbation or disapprobation of the constitution so prepared, and proposed by said convention. And the selectmen of the several towns, and the assessors of the several districts, and plantations respectively, shall preside at such meetings, and shall receive the votes of all the inhabitants, duly qualified as aforesaid, and shall sort and count them in open meeting of the town, district, or plantation; and the same shall be then and there recorded in the books of the town, district, or plantation; and a fair copy of such record shall be attested by the selectmen or assessors, and the clerk of the town, district, or plantation, respectively, and shall be, by the said selectmen or assessors, transmitted and delivered to the said convention, or to the President thereof, for the time being, or to any committee appointed to receive the same, on or before the first day of January next; on which day, or within ten days thereafter, the said convention shall be in session, and shall receive and count all the votes returned, and declare and publish the result; and if a majority of the votes so returned, shall be in favor of the constitution proposed, as aforesaid, the said constitution shall go into operation, according to its own provisions; otherwise the constitution of Massachusetts, with the addition of the terms and conditions herein provided, shall be, and be considered as the constitution of the said proposed State, in manner as hereafter provided. And to the end, that no period of anarchy may happen to the people of said proposed State, in case a new constitution shall not be so adopted and ratified by the people of said District of Maine, the present constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, shall, with the terms and conditions aforesaid, and with the exception hereinafter made, be provisionally, the constitution or frame of government, for said District; except only such parts of said constitution of Massachusetts, as relate to the style or title of said State, or may be otherwise inconsistent with, or repugnant to the situation and condition of said new State; and except, that the people of said District shall choose in their senatorial districts, as now established, three times the number of Senators now allowed them, and that the Legislature shall choose such a number of councilors, not exceeding nine, as they shall determine to be proper. And the said convention shall designate the place for the first meeting of the Legislature of said new State, and for the organization of its government, and shall appoint a Secretary, pro tempore, for said new State; and the said convention shall regulate the pay of its members; and the person, authorized by said convention, may draw upon the treasury of the Commonwealth for the amount of the money paid into the treasury by the several banks within said District, for the tax upon the same, due and payable on the first Monday of October next; and the sum or sums so drawn for, and paid out of the treasury, shall be a charge upon the new State in the division of the property, provided for in the fourth article of the terms and conditions stated in the first section of this act.

SECT. 5. Be it further enacted, That until a Governor of the proposed State shall be chosen and qualified according to the constitution which may be in operation in said State, the person last chosen President of the said convention, shall, from and after the fifteenth day of March next, have all the power of the Governor and Council under the constitution of Massachusetts, until a new Governor shall be chosen and qualified in the said proposed State; excepting only, that the said President shall not have the power to remove from office any officer who may be duly qualified, and executing the duties of his office according to the intent and meaning of this act. And in order that there may be no failure of justice, and that no danger may arise to the people of the said District of Maine, after the fifteenth day of March next, and before the government of the said State shall be fully organized; therefore,

SECT. 6. Be it further enacted, That all the laws which shall be in force within the said District of Maine, upon the said fifteenth day of March next, shall still remain, and be in force, within the said proposed State, until altered or repealed by the government thereof, such parts only excepted as may be inconsistent with the situation and condition of said new State, or repugnant to the constitution thereof. And all officers, who shall, on the said fifteenth day of March next, hold commissions, or exercise any authority within the said District of Maine, under the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or by virtue of the laws thereof, excepting only, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Council, the members of the Legislature, and the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court of the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts, shall continue to have, hold, use, exercise and enjoy, all the powers and authority to them respectively granted or committed, until other persons shall be appointed in their stead, or until their respective offices shall be annulled by the government of said proposed State. And all courts of law, whatsoever, within the said proposed State, excepting only the Supreme Judicial Court, shall proceed to hear and determine all causes, matters and things, which are or may be commenced or depending before them, respectively, upon the said fifteenth day of March next, or at any time afterwards, and before the government of the said proposed State shall establish new courts within the same; and shall continue from and after the said fifteenth day of March next, to exercise the like power and authority, and in like manner as they now by law may do, until such new courts shall be so established, in their stead.

SECT. 7. Be it further enacted, That all actions, suits, and causes, civil and criminal, and all matters and things whatsoever, that shall, on the said fifteenth day of March next, be in any manner depending in the Supreme Judicial Court of the said

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, then last holden within any county in the said District of Maine, and all writs, recognizances and other processes whatsoever, that may then be returnable to the said Supreme Judicial Court, shall be respectively transferred, and returned to, have day in, and be heard, tried, and determined in the highest court of law that shall be established in the said new State, by the government thereof; and at the first term of such court, that shall be held within the county in which such action, writ, process, or other matter or thing, may be so pending or returnable. And in all cases of appeals from any Circuit Court of Common Pleas, or Probate, or other court, which shall be made after the said fifteenth day of March next, in any action, cause, or suit whatsoever, and which would by law be made to the said Supreme Judicial [Court] thereof, it shall be sufficient for the appellant to claim an appeal, without naming or designating the court appealed to; and such appeal shall be entered at the Supreme or Superior Judicial Court, or highest court of law, to be established by the government of the said new State, which shall first thereafter be held within or for the county in which such action, cause, or suit, may be pending, and shall there be heard, tried, and determined, according to law. Provided, however, That nothing contained in this section shall be understood or construed to control, in any degree, the right of the people of the said new State, or the government thereof, to establish judicial courts, in such manner, and with such authority as they shall see fit; nor to prevent the said people or their government from making any other provisions, pursuant to their constitution, and not repugnant to the terms and conditions above set forth, respecting all the said actions, suits, processes, matters and things, herein above mentioned, as they shall think most proper, to prevent the discontinuance thereof, and to avoid any delay or failure of justice.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by an act of the Legislature of this Commonwealth passed on the nineteenth day of June last, entitled "An act relating to the separation of the District of Maine from Massachusetts proper, and forming the same into a separate and independent State " it is among other things provided, that the inhabitants of the several towns, districts and plantations, in the District of Maine, qualified to vote for Governor or Senators, should assemble in regular meeting to be notified by warrants of the proper officers, on the fourth Monday of July then next, and in open meeting give in their votes on this question,

Judge Thatcher, chairman of the Committee of Elections, made a report, that the committee have carefully examined the returns and certificates of the delegates returned from the several towns in the District of Maine, to this convention, and that said committee are of the opinion that the delegates from the following towns are severally entitled to their seats, viz: The delegates from all the towns in the county of York; also, from all the towns in the county of Cumberland, except the town of Standish; also, from all the towns in the county of Lincoln, except the town of Hope; also, from all the towns in the county of Hancock, except the towns of Ellsworth, Knox, Orland, Gouldsborough, Monroe and Lincolnville; also from all the towns in the county of Washington, except the town of Calais; also, from all the towns in the county of Kennebec, except the town of Rome; also, from all the towns in the county of Somerset, except the towns of New Portland, Anson, and Mercer; and from all the towns in the county of Penobscot—which report being read, was accepted.

The same committee further report, that as to the elections in the towns above excepted to, on account of defects in the certificates of returns delivered to the delegates and here produced to the convention, they find that the returns produced by the delegate from the town of Standish, in the County of Cumberland, is defective in this, that it is not attested by either or any of the selectmen of said town; and as to the returns from the towns of Bethel and Buckfield, in the County of Oxford, in addition to many of the smaller defects before mentioned, they are defective, in that they are not attested by the town clerks of their respective towns, nor is there any other date to the return from the town of Bethel, than the year of Independence of the United States, which is stated to be the forty-third; the return from the town of Hope, in the County of Lincoln, is defective in this, it is not attested by the town clerk; the return from the town of Rome, County of Kennebec, appears to be defective in most of the particular requisites of the law, though it is attested by the selectmen and town clerk; it does not appear by any express words or facts stated from which an implication can be made what county the town is in; it does not appear by any express words or facts stated from which an implication can be made on what occasion the meeting was called. It states simply "that agreeably to a warrant notified according to law by the subscribers, the inhabitants of Rome met and brought in their votes as follows, viz:

For James Philbrick, Esq., six votes.

For Capt. J. S. Colbath, twenty-three votes.

For Christopher Knight, one vote."

Then follow the signatures of the selectmen and the town clerk. The returns from the towns of Knox and Orland, in the County of Hancock, are not attested by the selectmen of their respective towns, and the return from the town of Ellsworth is not signed by the town clerk of said town.

The returns from the towns of Anson and Mercer, in the county of Somerset, are defective in that they are not signed or attested by their respective Town Clerks. Which report being read, it was thereupon

Resolved, That the several members returned from the several towns of Standish, Bethel, Buckfield, Hope, Rome, Knox, Ellsworth, Orland, Anson and Mercer, are severally entitled to their seats in this convention, notwithstanding the defect or defects which may have appeared in their several returns.

And the same committee further reported that they had considered the remonstrance of Daniel Lane and others against the election of William Vance, Esq., returned as a delegate from the town of Calais, in the county of Washington, and submit the following statement of facts: That the said William Vance, at the time of his election and ever since lived in plantation number six, and that on the day of said election and before, he did state to the inhabitants and voters of said Calais, that they might legally vote for a person not an inhabitant of said town, and that the said remonstrants believed the said statement made as aforesaid had a powerful effect on the voters; and they further state that said plantation number six, has never been organized, neither have the inhabitants been assessed by the assessors of Calais, which is the next adjacent town, nor in any manner borne their share of the public burthens; and they state that they consider that the qualifications of voters and those to be elected are the same, and that they deemed the admitting the said William Vance, Esq., to hold a seat in this convention as much an encroachment upon their rights, as if the inhabitants of plantation number six had attended said election and overpowered the inhabitants of Calais by their votes; these allegations were admitted by the said William Vance; there was no evidence before the committee, of any improper means made use of to obtain his election other than what are stated as aforesaid, or that there was any improper conduct on the part of said delegate. Judge Thatcher, then submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the said William Vance, Esq., is entitled to his seat in this convention, which statement and resolution were severally read and accepted.

Resolved, That a Committee of —— be appointed to procure a suitable public Seal, and also a proper device for the Arms of the State.

Judge Greene, Chairman of the Committee appointed to take into consideration the apportionment of Senators and Representatives for the first Legislature, made a report, and a statement of facts in relation thereto, which were submitted. The Committee find the whole number of Inhabitants according to the most correct estimate, which they have been able to make, to be as follows, viz :

In the County of	No. of Inhabitants.	Senators.	Fraction wanting.	Excess.
York,	50,291	4	10,765
Cumberland,	56,043	4	5,013
Lincoln,	59,148	4	1,918
Kennebec,	54,992	3		9,200
Oxford,	33,336	2		2,808
Somerset,	30,790	2		262
Hancock,	34,276	2		3,748
Penobscot,	19,126	1		3,862
Washington,	13,076	1	2,188

And the opinion of the Committee upon the foregoing facts, is, that should the number of Senators be increased to twenty-four, justice requires that four Senators should be appointed to Kennebec, that county having a fraction much larger than any other according to the apportionment, made by a former Committee.

The above report was read, and thereupon

Resolved, That one additional Senator be added, so that the whole number of Senators which may be elected be increased to twenty-four; that this additional Senator be placed to the county of Kennebec, and that the report be so far amended, as that the county of Kennebec may be entitled to send four Senators to the first Legislature—which resolve was read and passed.

ATTEST:—ROBERT C. VOSE, Secretary.

ADDRESS.

The Committee appointed on the 27th of October, 1819, to to prepare an address to the people of Maine, to accompany the Constitution to be submitted, made the following report, by Mr. PREBLE, their Chairman, which was printed by the previous order of the Convention. The following is the address:

To the People of Maine.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—The Delegates, elected to form a Constitution and Frame of Government, now present you the result of their deliberations.

They invite you to review it carefully, to weigh well its provisions. It is not submitted as a perfect system. In some few important provisions it is a compromise of conflicting interests and opinions; and, though not perfect, it is the best, upon which the convention under existing circumstances could agree.

In deciding upon its merits and demerits, the convention feel assured, you will be influenced by that candor and liberality, which always pervades an enlightened community.

The Constitution of Massachusetts, venerable as the work of the fathers of the revolution, endeared to the people by many associations and replete with the soundest principles of liberty and government, has in forty years experience proved inconvenient and defective in some few of its provisions.

Assuming that instrument for a basis, the convention proceeded to frame a Constitution for the State of Maine, deviating in those cases only, where the experience of this and of other States in the Union seemed to justify and require it.

They have omitted, as inconsistent with the dignity of the subject and the simplicity of "the truth," a provision, which, though professing much, is utterly nugatory in practice.

The worship of Jehovah, to be acceptable, must be a free will offering. The laws of man can reach no further, than to external deportment.

Our holy religion neither requires nor admits their aid. The heart and affections, the seat of vital religion, cannot be regulated by human legislation.

The rights of conscience are secured by universal toleration, placing all religious denominations on the footing of the most perfect equality. For the purpose of rendering this provision more certain in its operation all religious tests, as qualifications for office, are excluded. By requiring however that all officers shall be under oath, it is necessarily presupposed, that they believe in the existence and providence of God.

In times of party excitement the doctrine of libels, recognized by the common law, is sometimes employed as an engine of oppression.

The convention have endeavored to guard against the evil by making the truth of the matter published a sufficient justification in all cases, where the conduct of public men is in question, or where the public good may be promoted by a knowledge of the facts disclosed.

Pecuniary qualifications of electors have been productive of little benefit—sometimes of injustice.

They are too often relaxed or strained to suit the purposes of the day. The convention have therefore extended the right of suffrage, so that no person is disqualified for want of property, unless he be a pauper. With the same views electors under certain limitations and restrictions are also privileged from arrest on days of election.

The necessity of a reduced representation seem to be acknowledged by all. The number, to which it ought to be reduced, and the manner of making that reduction, are questions, on which scarcely two could be found to precisely agree. If some were in favor of even less than one hundred, others were the advocates of unlimited representation.

The convention adopted an intermediate course, limiting the number of representatives at not less than one hundred, nor more than two hundred, and referring the question back to the people themselves, when the number shall have reached the highest limit, whether that number shall be increased or diminished.

But the difficulties arising out of this embarrassing branch of the business entrusted to your delegates, did not here terminate. Many were advocates of a general districting system—others were equally strenuous for a representation by towns. The convention once more adopted an intermediate course.

The whole number of representatives to be elected is first to be apportioned and assigned to the several counties on the most exact principles of equity and justice. Thus the great sections of the State, the several counties, which are but larger corporations, actuated to a certain extent by a community of interests, have their due weight according to their population. The number of representatives, thus apportioned and assigned to any county, is next to be distributed among the respective towns in such county, each town, having the competent number of inhabitants, being entitled to one or more; and towns and plantations not having that number, to be classed as conveniently as possible. On any practicable system there will be fractions, and the representation of course unequal. If under the system adopted by the convention, the large towns have not their full representation, it is preserved in the county of which they are a part. They have their representatives; and even their fractions, which would otherwise be lost to them, are represented through the smaller towns of their county, who can seldom have an interest at variance with their own.

The Senate is predicated upon population.

This rule of apportionment seemed to the convention most consonant to the principles of a government by the people. Property will always possess at least its full share of influence without being specially represented in the Senate.

The Council are selected from among the people by the two branches of the Legislature. You thus avoid the idle ceremony of electing in the first instance from the Senate; and you preserve to the Senate its proper number and distinctive character. And with the view to preserve in the Council a steady regard to the public good, councilors are precluded from receiving any appointment during the time, for which they shall have been elected.

The provision respecting exempts from military duty was called for by the united voice of the militia. It tends to equalize the burthen, and to render the militia more respectable and more efficient. This duty, in its nature a personal service, ought not to fall exclusively upon any class of citizens. In the opinion of the convention, every able bodied male citizen of suitable age ought to perform it, or, in some form or other, pay an equivalent.

Free governments cannot long exist, where the people are ignorant and depraved. The due administration of our own must essentially depend upon the intelligence and virtue of our citizens. The State therefore has a deep interest in the education of our youth. Hence the convention have made it the imperative duty of the Legislature to cause schools to be supported in the several towns, and to encourage and suitably endow academies, colleges and seminaries of learning, by extending to them as far, as the circumstances of the people would authorize, the patronage of the State. At the same time it was thought proper, that the Legislature should so far retain such a general and superintending power over these institutions, as should enable it to aid the cause of good learning, and prevent the perversion or abuse of the public munificence.

To preserve the purity of the Legislature, its members under certain limitations and restrictions are disqualified, during the term, for which they are elected, from being appointed to any civil office, which may be created, or the emoluments of which may be increased, during such term. With similar views, and to prevent a system of favoritism, all persons holding lucrative appointments are excluded both from the Legislature and Council. This exclusion was deemed peculiarly proper in so far, as respects judicial officers.

Thus you preserve the several departments of the government distinct. Thus you remove those important offices as far, as possible, from all temptation to court the popular favor perhaps at the expense of justice.

On a pure, intelligent, upright, and independent judiciary, the people more immediately depend for the impartial interpretation and administration of the laws, and for protection in the enjoyment of their rights and privileges.

In the opinion of the convention, merit, not wealth, is the proper qualification for office. If with perfect safety to the people no pecuniary qualification is required for the highest offices under the United States, there is still less reason for requiring it under the government of the State. With the limitation in general, that but one important office can be held by one man, all offices are left open to all.

The settlement of our extensive vacant lands has been seriously retarded by the present unequal system of taxation. In the opinion of the convention no good reason exists, why an estate of a given value in uncultivated lands should pay only one-third so much tax, as an estate of the same value in lands under cultivation. It seemed to them not difficult to determine who best deserve the indulgence or patronage of the State, the man who brings forward and cultivates his lands, and renders them productive to the community, or the man, who suffers them to remain a useless wilderness, in order that his wealth may be increased by their rise in value, occasioned by the industry and enterprise of contiguous settlements. To remedy the evil, the convention inserted the article requiring that real estate, whether cultivated or uncultivated, shall be equally taxed according to its just value.

The apportionment of Senators and Representatives for the first Legislature, it was apprehended, might not prove perfectly equal. The convention however proceeded upon the best data in their possession, and to them it is a gratifying circumstance, that, if any injustice is done, it can be of but short duration.

An actual census of the people being about to be taken, the first Legislature will be enabled to remedy such inequalities, as shall be found to exist, and to do exact and impartial justice to every district town and plantation.

It was not thought advisable by the convention to incumber the constitution by attempts to fix or regulate the salaries of any of your officers. This and many other objects suggested in convention are subjects of legislation and are left to the wisdom of your future legislatures.

Such, fellow citizens, are the principal provisions in the constitution submitted to you by your delegates, which embrace the material variances from the constitution, under which you have so long and so happily lived. We say principal provisions, because there are others, believed to be wholesome and salutary, which however are not deemed of sufficient importance, to be particularly noticed in this address. To the constitution itself we respectfully refer you. We solicit you once more to weigh well its provisions, to examine it as a whole. If it be not perfectly satisfactory in all its parts, judge whether, considering the differences existing in men's views and opinions, you will be likely to obtain one, more acceptable.

Your delegates have felt a deep responsibility; your approbation could not fail to be highly gratifying to them. But they wish not to bias your judgment. You act for yourselves and posterity.

In behalf and by order of the convention.

Resolved, unanimously, That the thanks of this convention be presented to the Honorable William King, for the dignified and impartial manner with which he has discharged the duties of the chair, during our deliberations—which resolution was again read by the Secretary and unanimously adopted.

The Honorable President then made the following reply:

Gentlemen of the Convention:—For the sentiments which you have expressed, I feel particularly grateful;—they come, I perceive, from an old and respected friend, from whom political considerations have perhaps too long separated me. My friend, on this occasion, does not remember them—they are, therefore, erased from my recollection forever.

The constitution, gentlemen, which you have presented with so much unanimity to our fellow-citizens, an unexampled majority have adopted. Your business has therefore now terminated; to the public it has been most useful; to yourselves most honorable, being now enrolled as the fathers of the constitution.

Permit me, gentlemen, to hope that the constitution with which God has been pleased, through you, to bless us, may long preserve the liberties, and promote the happiness of all our fellow-citizens; and that for your services, you may not only receive the respect of the virtuous of your own time, but the regard of posterity.

The business of the convention being completed, on motion of the Hon. Judge Cony, Voted, That the convention adjourn without day.

Adjourned accordingly.
